

Code of Student Rights and Academic Integrity Statement
September, 2021

Students must complete the steps below before they will be enrolled in Blackboard courses.

1. In the Student Information System (SIS), click on:
 - Self Service
 - Code of Student Rights
 - Code of Student Rights

2. There are two areas to be read and acknowledged.

Welcome!

Please complete the following acknowledgment and attestation for the Student Code of Rights and Responsibilities and the statement for Academic Integrity. Acknowledging your understanding of your rights and the rules of academic integrity are critical to your success at St. Clair College. Both acknowledgements are required in order to gain access to Blackboard to participate in your registered classes. You will receive individual emails for your personal record keeping.

St. Clair College requires you to read The Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities document. Please click the button below. NOTE: you may have to disable your browser popup blocker.

As a student at St. Clair College, you are a member of an exciting and diverse learning community. The following principles of academic integrity will guide your participation in this learning community:

1. Honesty - Personal honesty in all College activities and learning pursuits.
2. Trust - Foster and rely upon climates of mutual trust.
3. Fairness - Clear and transparent expectations, standards, and practices to support fairness.
4. Respect - Honour, value, and consider diverse opinions and ideas.
5. Responsibility - Leading by example, upholding mutually agreed-upon standards, and acting when encountering wrong doing.
6. Courage - Translating these principles from talking points into action standing up for them in the face of pressure and adversity.

St. Clair College's reputation is built on a tradition of excellence and academic integrity. As members of the St. Clair College Community, students accept the responsibility to maintain the highest standards of intellectual honesty and ethical conduct in completing all forms of academic work at the College. By acknowledging reading this Statement, I am attesting to the fact that I accept the principles and responsibilities of ethical participation in the St. Clair College Community. I commit to learning and recognizing the various forms of academic dishonesty; to following the College's rules and instructions on maintaining academic integrity; and, to refrain from any and all forms of academic dishonesty.
