CRIMES INVOLVING MORAL TURPTIUDE

In general, moral turpitude is anything done contrary to justice, honesty, modesty or good morals.

By way of summary, the following list is offered as an example of crimes that involve moral turpitude (Note: Not every crime involving moral turpitude is listed below):

- Abduction
- Abetting (another to commit a crime involving moral turpitude)
- Abortion (illegal participation in)
- Assault (various forms: indecent accompanied by theft, accompanied by rape, with intent to seriously harm or disfigure; with intent to endanger the life: Note: common assault not included)
- Breaking & Entering
- Committing Obscene Acts
- Concealing Stolen Goods
- Embezzlement
- Fraud-all types
- Illegal assembly
- Indicting a Riot
- Perjury
- Plundering
- Sexual Assault (formerly rape)
- Smuggling
- Swindling
- Theft
- Unlawful trafficking in or Possession Narcotics

If you have a criminal record involving a crime of moral turpitude, you must apply for a pardon. Depending on the type of offence and type of conviction, you may have to wait up to 2-5 years after the fine/sentence was paid/served before being allowed to apply for a pardon. After applying for a pardon it may take 8-12 months to grant and they are not automatically granted.

In order for this institution to ensure that you meet this requirement and can comply with this regulation, we ask that you obtain a Police Clearance that includes “Vulnerable Sector”. These clearances will have no bearing on your acceptance into the program; however, they may deny you access to the Ambulance Services for required field experience and Hospitals for required clinical experience.
